

Agenda post-2015: El acceso a la información y a los medios de comunicación independientes es esencial para el desarrollo

En las próximas décadas, el desarrollo humano va a depender del acceso de las personas a la información. La revolución tecnológica y de los nuevos medios de comunicación está generando grandes avances en materia económica, social y política.

Creemos que la libertad de expresión y el acceso a medios de comunicación independientes son esenciales para el desarrollo democrático y económico. La libertad de expresión y los medios son vías para avanzar en materia de desarrollo humano y constituyen fines en sí mismos.

Por consiguiente, los abajo firmantes instamos al Grupo de Trabajo Abierto a integrar plenamente en los Objetivos de Desarrollo Sostenible post-2015 propuestos las recomendaciones sobre gobernanza formuladas en el Informe del Grupo de Alto Nivel de Personas Eminentes sobre la Agenda de Desarrollo Post-2005 (Una nueva alianza mundial: Erradicar la pobreza y transformar las economías a través del desarrollo sostenible), de Naciones Unidas; y, más concretamente, las recomendaciones relativas a:

- Establecer un objetivo específico para "garantizar la buena gobernanza e instituciones eficaces"
- Incluir como elemento de este objetivo una cláusula para "garantizar que las personas disfruten de libertad de expresión, asociación, protesta pacífica y acceso a medios de comunicación e información independientes" y "garantizar el derecho a la información y el acceso a datos gubernamentales por parte del público"
